
400 units on the way

A BID by a Chinese property developer to build 400 apartments in a complex surrounded on three sides by Sydney Park has passed the first stage of approval.

Hailiang Property Group (HPG) Australia received Stage 1 development approval by the Central Sydney Planning Committee last week.

Eight, six-storey apartment blocks, as well as several shops, are planned on the site along Euston Rd, Alexandria that is now used for office and warehouse space.
