HPG held 'MEET THE CREATORS' event to share inspiration of ONE SYDNEY PARK with clients

On 7th July 2018, HPG Australia hosted an event at 215 Euston Road, Alexandria ONE SYDNEY PARK display suite joined by architect teams Silvester Fuller and MHNDU to share the design inspiration of ONE SYDNEY PARK.

Barney Oros, HPG's development director said: "Our vision is always to develop a distinctive landmark project fulfilled with community spirit and our designing teams certainly have the same goal." ONE SYDNEY PARK was conceived through a design excellence competition in September 2017 and Silvester Fuller, MHNDU and Sue Barnsley's collaboration was selected. "Their design was the best aligning HPG's vision. When we initially studied the site, we want this to define why Australian is proud to call Sydney home. It's close to the nature, close to the city and you can literally walk out your front door and enjoy every minute of your life with the ones you love in the park." said Barney Oros.

"It really blurs the line between the buildings and Sydney Park. Our concept is to blend it into the nature given we have the huge advantage of being inside the park." said Brien Meyerson, partner at MHNDU. "The buildings will form part of the parkland and majority of apartments will enjoy the view of the park. Most importantly these apartments will never be built out and this is a massive assurance for all the residents." Mr Meyerson said.

Sydney Park sizes approximately 44 hectares and is one of the most significant parklands in Sydney providing open entertaining space for Sydneysiders, dog lovers and families.

"These apartments are crafted for people who really enjoy the city vibe but don't want to live in a high density area. ONE SYDNEY PARK is the perfect location for them. The layout has been designed carefully to maximize the light, the view and the living space." said Lachlan Cuthbert & Bruce Feng from Silvester Fuller.

ONE SYDNEY PARK is located at 205-225 Euston Road, Alexandria. Comprising of approximately 400 dwellings, it will also provide a variety of community facilities as well as a vibrant retail precinct.

Apartments at One Sydney Park start from $830,000, two-bedroom apartments with a car space from $1.1 million and three-bedroom apartments & terraces with car parking from $1.7 million.
